SUCCUMBS — The Rev. Egbert B. Clark, former rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, died unexpectedly at his home here Monday. He had resided in Redwood City 4½ years.

Rev. Egbert B. Clark Dies Unexpectedly

The Rev. Egbert B. Clark Jr., former rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Redwood City, died unexpectedly at his home, 350 Jeter St., late Monday afternoon. The Rev. Mr. Clark was a native of La Grange, Ill., and was 51.

He had been rector of the church here for more than three years up to his retirement in November, 1947, when he resigned upon the insistence of his doctor.

The Rev. Mr. Clark had been active in community affairs since he came to Redwood City in 1944. He was formerly rector of the Church of the Incarnation in Santa Rosa.

He was a graduate of Stanford University and also received his master of arts degree from Stanford. He was dean of men at Santa Rosa Junior College for nine years.

Through the Rev. Mr. Clark's efforts, St. Peter's had canceled its church debt of $8000 and purchased the lots at the corner of Clinton St. and Brewster Ave.

He was held in high esteem by the young people of the community in whose affairs he was active. The Rev. Mr. Clark was honored by the community when he spoke his last sermon in the church on Nov. 2, 1947. His belief, which he often stressed to his parish, was the necessity of an intelligent attitude toward young people.

The Rev. Mr. Clark is survived by his widow, Kathryn; a daughter, Kathryn Rose, a student at Pomona College, and a son, 1st. Lt. Egbert Clark III, now a lieutenant in the mechanized cavalry at Camp Hood, Tex. Lieutenant Clark recently was appointed to West Point for a term beginning in July.

The Rev. Mr. Clark was a former member of the Kiwanis Club and was a member of Bay View Lodge 109, IOOF. He also had served as a member of the Sequoia YMCA Board of Directors.

During the war the Rev. Mr. Clark served as coordinator of the Naval Aviation Training Service at Ely, Nev.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at St. Peter's Episcopal Church with the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home in charge.

First Campership Funds Received

First contribution to the Lions Club-Tribune Campership Fund was received Tuesday from Jens P. Harder, 229 Hudson St., who sent a check for $5.

The campership fund is sponsored each year so that underprivileged children who otherwise would not get to go to camp may do so. Scores of youngsters have gone to camp because of the fund.

Girls go to the Girl Scout camp and boys go to the Boy Scout and YMCA camps.

Anyone desiring to help a boy or girl go to camp this summer should send contributions to the Lions Club-Tribune Campership Fund, Tribune Bldg., 30 California St., Redwood City.

Redwood Camera Club Analyzes Prints

The Redwood Camera Club, meeting at their clubhouse at 820 Bradford St. this week analyzed prints brought in by the members.

In addition to the regular members, the club played host to some guests who added their comment to the discussion.

Anyone interested in photography is invited to attend one of the club's Tuesday night meetings, the officers said.

Argo Addresses RC Exchange Club

A. C. Argo, former Sequoia High School superintendent, gave an illustrated address this week at the meeting of the Redwood City Exchange Club. Argo told of his experiences on a federal mission to help guide Japanese education along democratic lines. He was introduced by Dr. Rollo La Berge.

APPROVE RESUBDIVISION

Edward Lamont, 1021 Arlington Rd., Monday night, was granted permission by the Redwood City Planning Commission to resubdivide two lots he owns so that he may construct additional garage space at Turnsworth St. and Arlington Rd. The resubdivisions will give him additional space on one lot for the garage.

Menlo Park Voters Okeh School Tax

A handful of Menlo Park Elementary School Dist. voters stamped their four to one approval on a change in the district's special tax rate in balloting Tuesday. The returns:

Yes—231.
No—57.

Voters approved a proposal dropping a $1.10 special tax and replacing it with one of 60 cents when the next fiscal year begins July 1. Use of the $1.10 secial tax had been restricted to capital outlay. The new special tax may be used for all school purposes.

Approval of the measure by voters cut school tax bills from a possible maximum of $2 per $100 assessed valuation to a maximum of $1.50. The 1949-50 tax levy is expected to be between $1.10 and $1.15.

"Now we can continue to present a good school program," said Supt. Melville J. Homfeld, who expressed pleasure with the results. He said he was disappointed, however, that the turnout was less than 6 per cent of the district's 5000 registered voters.

All teachers in the district will now be offered contracts for the coming school year with $200 cost of living increases in addition to regular increments, Homfeld said.

Approval of the proposal also cleared the way for completion of the budget for next year, Homfeld added.

NLRB Continues Paraffin Hearings

The National Labor Relations Board in San Francisco is continuing hearings over union representation in Redwood City's Paraffin Companies, Inc. plant, Mrs. Susan Schroeder, NLRB field director said Tuesday.

Representatives of rival CIO and AFL factions met Tuesday morning and continued hearings in the afternoon over what unions shall control workers in Redwood City industrial plants.

Mrs. Schroeder gave no indication as to whether union representatives had settled their differences or not. Previously, the hearings had been adjourned one week to give union agents a chance to work out their problems among themselves. Mrs. Schroeder would not say if union agents had reached a settlement or not.

The issue before the NLRB examining board is to decide which union shall represent the workers at the paraffin plant. Employes in the plant are now represented by the CIO's International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union Local 6, but Joseph Dillon of the AFL Teamsters and General Warehouse Union Local 655 has indicated there is a movement under way among local units of the ILWU to bolt the CIO.

Paul Heide, president of the CIO unit, had described Dillon's attempt to foster control of the paraffin plant as an outright raid on the part of the AFL.

Bekins Estate Set at $919,009

The estate of the late Reed J. Bekins, one of the owners of the Bekins Van and Storage Co., totals $919,009, according to an inventory filed in superior court at Redwood City Monday by James A. Lee, state inheritance tax appraiser.

Mr. Bekins, who lived at 832 Eucalyptus Dr., Hillsborough, died Feb. 10. He was 53 years old.

The estate consists principally of stocks and bonds. It includes also his Hillsborough home, appraised at $60,000; a one-fourth interest, valued at $83,918, in the estate of Mr. Bekins' father, Martin Bekins, founder of the firm; and a fourth interest in the Katherine Bekins estate, valued at $147,386.

Mr. Bekins' widow, Mrs. Ida Rainey Bekins, is executrix, and Milo W. Bekins is executor. Mr. Bekins was chairman of the board of the van and storage company.

SC Firemen Halt First 1949 Grass Fire

San Carlos firemen yesterday afternoon had their first grass fire of the year, but neighbors were able to put the blaze out before fire trucks arrived.

Firemen said that the blaze burned a small area in a vacant lot next to 137 Arundel Ave. The fire was reported at 4:26 o'clock.

AID TO SHOPPERS—This is the newly resurfaced Perry St. parking lot which is now open for public use. The project, which cost nearly $36,000, was financed by property owners in the area, a 1944 civic improvement bond issue, and receipts from parking meters. Meters have also been installed in the parking lot. The Perry St. project is one of three planned by the city to ease parking congestion in the downtown area.

150 Hear Candidates At Belmont Meeting

The first of a series of three candidates' nights in the Sequoia High School Dist. got off to a heated start Tuesday night when all four candidates for the Sequoia High School Board of Trustees spoke at the Waltermire School in Belmont.

More than 150 persons, about half of them residents of Belmont, attended the meeting which was sponsored by the Belmont Mothers' School Committee.

The fireworks started when a small group of supporters of two of the candidates, Keith Cole and Kenneth Bowen, started pelting Incumbents W. W. Hilton and Morton Brewer with questions in the discussion period following the talks by each of the men.

After about 15 minutes of heated debate, Mrs. Fred Graetz, chairman of the meeting asked the questioners to stop argument from the floor and let the people from Belmont ask questions and find out the issues in the election for themselves.

Bowen, the first speaker, declared that he disagreed violently with the Sequoia board's philosophy and attitude on education. He said that a large majority of teachers at Sequoia are dissatisfied and working for the election of Cole and himself.

He charged Supt. Clyde Ogden with timing the dedication ceremonies last Friday of the recreation pavilion at Sequoia with the election and predicted that the board would announce the acquisition of the Donohoe property in Menlo Park, proposed site for the southend high school, at a strategic moment just before the election.

Bowen said there was a "new boost in morale among students and teachers at Sequoia" since he and Cole announced their candidacy.

Hilton denied that the board was slow in getting the building program through. He said that Sequoia is ahead of schedule in getting up plans for the Menlo Park school adding that the southend school would be ready to open its doors by the Fall of 1950.

He explained his stand in opposing the 1946 bond issue, which he termed "a blank check" and presented background on last year's $1,250,000 bond issue and the special 25-cent permissive tax.

Hilton said that the present campaign started when the board abolished the controversial social living course at Sequoia last Spring. He said that at that time a small group of teachers at Sequoia resolved to elect two candidates to the board at the next election.

Cole promised harmony at Sequoia if he and Bowen are elected, and also claimed that they had teacher support, "not 15 or 20 teachers," he said, "but 70 or 80."

He said that the district has heard of buildings since 1936 but has received nothing.

Cole listed what he believed as being sound fundamental education in a four-part program: 1. Practical arithmetic, 2. English, 3. An understanding of history and government, music and art, and 4. An understanding of the sciences.

Brewer, the last speaker, said that until recently Sequoia had a unique situation in that the administrative staff could not keep up with the school in growth. He said that gradually power was delegated to a small group of teachers and that the power of this group gradually grew until it took over the administration of the school.

He said that the campaign started when the trustees abolished the social living program and reorganized the school, stripping this group of its power and putting it back to work.

Brewer blamed them with stirring up dissension at Sequoia. "There is ample evidence this group is in back of our opponents," he said. Brewer accused the group of operating like a fire department which would start a fire itself and then volunteer to put it out.

After the four addresses and the discussion period, Brewer talked on the $2,150,000 bond issue. He explained charts showing the tremendous student population growth in the district and urged the passage of the bonds.

The second candidates night program will be held tonight at 8 p.m. at the Taft School, and will be sponsored by the Taft Improvement Club.

Ray Rhodes and Carl Hilpisch, candidates to the Belmont Elementary School Board of Trustees also presented their platforms.

Hilpisch proposed a three point program to meet the building needs of the district. He said that the most important thing at present is to complete the Barrett School additions on schedule.

He proposed that temporary quonset huts be erected to provide extra classrooms to that each child could have a full school day. Hilpisch also proposed that the problem of what to do with the Waltermire School be decided and that an additional school site be obtained.

Rhodes pointed out that Belmont is the fastest growing city in California and that the city will have difficulty in obtaining additional tax money for schools since it is primarily a home town with few industries, and consequently has a lower source of income than many other localities.

He said that a population survey shows that the enrollment in the Belmont schools next year will pass the 600 mark, that by 1951 it will reach 800, and that in 1953 it will be over 1100.

RC Legion Post Hears Fioresi

Redwood City's American Legion held its baseball night last night for the benefit of the Legion's junior baseball team. Al Fioresi showed a film, "Hitting Stars."

The Junior Legion baseball team is cosponsored by the local legion post and by the Towne Motor Co.

Among those present at the meeting was Charlie Lyons, district commissioner of junior baseball, District 26, San Mateo County.

Leonard Taube, manager of the team, was chairman together with Ken Boscacci, coach of the club.

3 SM County Men Face Duck Charges

Three San Mateo County men have been named in criminal informations charging them with alleged violations of the migratory bird treaty.

William Miramontes, Half Moon Bay; Joseph Casaretto, Redwood City and Harry L. Arnold of San Carlos were charged in one document of having put out bait for ducks at the Pin Tail Duck Club in Alameda County on Dec. 20, according to the Associated Press.

Conviction of the charges could mean a $500 fine and six months' imprisonment.

Altogether three criminal informations were filed before Federal Judge Michael J. Roche naming nine duck hunters for alleged violation of the treaty.

One document named William Chatham Jr., manager of the Loop Lumber Co., Alameda, and Jon Kongshofer, Carmel architect. The two were charged with shooting ducks after luring them with bait near Alvarado, Alameda County.

Another document charges Herbert L. Reinche and David Williams of Lodi and Hugh Davies of Stockton with chasing ducks in a power boat in Contra Costa County.

Juvenile Home Transfer 'Legal'

Control of San Mateo County's Juvenile Home cannot be transferred back to the social welfare division, the board of supervisors was notified Tuesday.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis told the board that by general law the juvenile home is in charge of the probation committee, despite a county charter section which states that the superintendent of social service shall have administrative supervision of the home.

The supervisors had asked for the district attorney's opinion after receiving a letter from County Executive Frederick Peterson, recommending that the juvenile home be transferred to social welfare.

"The probation department's functions are such that they concern the state as a whole, and are without the purview of a charter for local self-government," Dematteis wrote.

"Hence, any attempted infringement upon the duties of the probation commission or its officers by charter provision is in our opinion void and of no more effect than if the charter had attempted to define the jurisdiction of the superior courts within the county, or the duties of any of its officers, such as bailiffs and court reporters.

"Art. 7, Sec. 10, giving the superintendent of social service administrative supervision of the juvenile home is invalid insofar as it attempts to transfer any of the powers and duties vested by general law in the probation committee, probation officer, assistants, deputies and superintendent, matron and employes of the juvenile home."

Dematteis stated that the action of the board of supervisors on Feb. 4, 1947, in transferring the management of the juvenile home to the probation committee, "appears to be well-founded and legal."

Zoning Controversy Highlights Meeting Of RC Planning Group

Controversies over proposed rezonings highlighted a Redwood City Planning Commission meeting Monday night. Before the commission were these requests:

1. A. R. Burt wanted to extend the multiple dwelling zone in a lot he owns at Broadway and Hopkins Ave.

2. George Dunand wanted to rezone for multiple dwelling use a lot he owns on Edgewood Rd. just off El Camino Real.

3. Oliver Johnson wanted his Atherwood Subdivision rezoned to multiple dwelling use.

4. Archie Klang, L. E. Werder and A. G. Frank wanted their land alongside Woodside Rd. near Union Ave. rezoned for commercial use.

5. Mary Cassaretto wanted her land at Chestnut St. and Middlefield Rd. rezoned for commercial use.

Only the first two requests caused heavy verbal fireworks, but those two items took more than an hour to settle, and even then the commission didn't reach final decision. In each of those cases the commission closed the hearings and announced it would reach a decision in a private study meeting before making any recommendations to the city council.

Cora Belle Brown, 100 Duane St., said her family owned a lot adjacent to Burt's and that if that lot were rezoned so that a triplex could be installed, it would ruin property values in the neighborhood. L. E. Werder said the lot was not suitable for anything but apartments or a duplex.

After commissioners explained that most of the lot is now in a single family zone, Paul McCarthy pointed out that the reason the lot was in two zones was because good planners try to run dividing lines between zones down the middle of blocks so that buildings of the same zone will face each other. He asked the commission how, if they granted Burt's request, they could resist other rezonings.

Dunand said that in his case, he wanted to install four three-room apartments at a cost of approximately $30,000 on his lot on Edgewood. The lot is behind a drive-in restaurant

R. C. R. Morser, 37 Avondale Ave., led the opposition to this proposal. He said this rezoning would lead to others and that the Edgewood Park district was in danger of multiple dwellings creeping into it. In answer to an argument that there should be a "buffer" zone between the commercial zone along El Camino Real and the park, he said that he didn't believe that was just either. The buffer suggested, of course, would be of multiple dwellings. Morser said that people who lived in apartments were just as good as those who lived in single family dwellings and that he didn't see why they should be discriminated against.

Paul Tessendorf, who stated that he was a naturalized citizen, said the construction of an apartment would raise the "race" issue because nearby residents wouldn't know who Dunand would rent to.

Werder asked if Morser would object to a duplex on the lot. In answer, Morser said he did object to a duplex.

The other actions:

Recommended that Johnson's Atherwood land be rezoned from single family to multiple dwelling use.

Decided to consult with the San Mateo County Planning Commission on the Werder-Frank-Klang request. Commissioners indicated they would not rezone just that plot by itself but would try to work out a method of rezoning the entire Woodside frontage for business.

They pointed out that in the past they had denied other such rezonings and that if they granted this one, they would grant others. At present the city and county commissions have an agreement not to rezone any more land there for business use.

Planning Consultant Lawrence Wise presented commissioners with a zoning ordinance amendment proposal which would be to add a new zone in which business would be permitted on the condition that the landowners would furnish adequate offstreet parking in each case.

The commission recommended that Mary Casaretto's request be granted to have the southeast corner of Chestnut and Middlefield rezoned from multiple dwelling to commercial use.

NMB Chief In Mexico On Air Trip

Pres. Lloyd A. Johnson of National Motor Bearing Co. Inc. here is now in Mexico City after touring the Virgin Islands as part of a company business-pleasure trip to the East Coast, the Virgin Islands and Mexico.

The National Motor Bearing executive left Redwood City April 9 in the company plane the "Flying Seal" accompanied by a group of San Francisco business men.

While in Frederiksted, Saint Croix, V. I., Johnson was the guest of the Hon. Ward M. Canady, cochairman of the Caribbean Commission and a Virgin Island automobile dealer.

Johnson's trip was highlighted in an article in the West End News, Virgin Island newspaper, which commented that if you could "get the life story" of such successful American business men "you would make good money."

The local executive was one of 60 leaders of American business that were entertained at the island's government house and were guests of Governor Hastie, Governor Marin and other civic and business leaders of the islands.

Pres. Harry Truman acknowledged the business men's trip with a letter to Canady stating the President hoped the business men would share his enthusiasm for the Caribbean possessions.

Johnson left for Mexico City after the Virgin Island trip and will return to Redwood City next week.

He was accompanied on the trip by Edward Arnold, San Francisco realtor; Frank Taylor, Saturday Evening Post feature writer and by Fred Bain, president of the Leslie Salt Co.

Signals Kayoed In EPA Accident

The traffic signals at Bayshore Hwy. and Willow Rd., East Palo Alto, were out of commission for four hours Tuesday afternoon after a car struck and broke one of the light poles.

The California Highway Patrol arrested Harold Kinkaid, 39, a civil engineer who lives at 319 Poe St., Palo Alto, on a charge of drunken driving.

According to officers, Kinkaid's southbound car swerved to the left side of the highway when traffic slowed in front of him, and struck the traffic signal. No one was injured.

Another non-injury accident reported by the CHP involved the Peninsula Ambulance driven by Ralph Ratliff, 46, of 1462 Oxford St., Redwood City, owner of the ambulance service.

Ratliff was taking an emergency inhalator case to Mt. Zion Hospital, San Francisco, at the time of the accident. A car driven by Thomas Van Ryckman Derby, 45, a Tulare broker, had stopped for a left turn at Holly Rd., San Carlos. Upon hearing the siren and seeing the red light, Derby turned his car to the right, causing a minor collision with the ambulance. The side of the ambulance was damaged, but Ratliff continued to the hospital with the patient.

Liguori St. Lines Decision Delayed

After a second public hearing, Redwood City planning commission ruled this week, provided making a decision on proposed plan lines for the extension of Liguori St. between Chestnut St. and Maple St.

Speaking for R. C. McClenahan, Atty. Paul A. McCarthy objected to the proposed 80-foot street. He said the street would cut so much off the back of McClenahan's Garden Motel lot that it would be impossible to install additional cabins there.

City Engineer Glenn Jain pointed out that if the commission followed McCarthy's recommendations, a jog in the proposed street would result.

Francis Guido, writing for the Genochio estate, opposed the move unless the city were ready to start immediately on the street construction.

Changes in Meeting Dates Told to Red Cross Committee

Several changes in meeting dates were announced at a meeting of the staff committee of the Sequoia Chapter, American Red Cross, held at the chapter house yesterday.

Mrs. John Blackinger, chairman of the committee, presided and announced that instead of meeting together with the sector council each month, as they did last year, the staff committee would meet by itself for eight meetings and would meet with the sector council only four times a year. The joint meetings will continue to be held at 11 a.m. on the first Thursday of the month. The staff committee, however, will meet on the second Wednesday of each month at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. J. Leroy Rogers, chairman of the newly formed membership and fund raising committee, reported on the chapter's annual meeting held recently at St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Blackinger read a letter of resignation from Mrs. E. C. LaMontagne, chairman of surgical dressings service. Mrs. La Montagne has held the chairmanship for the past 7 years, but was compelled to resign for health reasons. Her successor will be named at a later date.

Standing committee reports were given by Mrs. Vincent Malone, home service; Mrs. D. H. Chapman, home nursing; and Mrs. W. H. Mattson, nutrition.

Volunteer service reports were given by the following chairman: Mrs. H. T. Sutcliffe, canteen; Mrs. Henry Wolff, Gray Ladies; Mrs. Miles W. Weeks, motor service; and Mrs. William A. Baxter, staff aides.

Other members of the staff committee present at the meeting were Miss Frances Flynn, staff aides vice chairman; Mrs. Thomas G. James, executive secretary; Mrs. Harvey Hall, survey and recognition chairman; and Mrs. Jay Semelman, member of the public information committee.

Frances Wilson, Wayne Crabtree Are Married in Reno

Frances Wilson and Wayne Crabtree changed their plans for a June wedding and motored to Reno, Nev. last weekend to be married. The young couple has returned from a short honeymoon and is residing on Winslow St.

Frances chose a green dress with matching accessories for the simple ceremony.

The young couple's engagement was announced late last month at a combination birthday party and bridal shower for Frances given by her mother Mrs. Florence Wilson and her brother, Oliver, at the family home on Stambaugh St.

Frances is the daughter of Mrs. Wilson and the late Fred Wilson. She is a garduate of Redwood City schools.

Wayne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Crabtree of Colusa. He is a graduate of Colusa schools and has been making his home here for the past year, where he is employed.

Congressman, Mrs. Jack Anderson Tells Daughter's Betrothal

Congressman and Mrs. Jack Z. Anderson are announcing the engagement of their eldest daughter, Jean Elizabeth, to Leighton Schumaker of Hollister. No date has been set for the wedding.

Jean is a junior student at San Jose State College, where she is majoring in Spanish. When her parents are not in Washington, D. C. they reside in San Juan Bautista.

Leighton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet L. Schumaker of Hollister.

PARENTS' CORNER: Girls Ahead of Boys at 10 Years Old

BY DR. RICHMOND BARBOUR

Girls are tougher than boys, especially at nine and ten. No shrinking violets, they.

Watch 'em on the playground. Who always kicks out the homers at kick ball? Chubby little Bill or Henry? No, it is tall, shrill young Louise or Betty.

Who catches the indoor ball? Who manages to pitch it somewhere near the batter? Girls.

Running speed? Turning bar skills? Yoyo abilities? Those little girls, again. They are even better at bicycle riding, marbles and tops.

Disgusting, isn't it, boys?

Girls are even better at fist fights. I watched one the other day at the beach. I couldn't interfere since both mamas and papas were present. They let nature take its course, and maybe they were wise.

Betty was ten, tall, slender, vigorous. An only child, and as independent as Queen Victoria. Bill was eleven. He had his gang of four brothers with him. Bill wanted to fight. He wanted to show off.

"Gonna start a fight," he whispered. He turned and started yelling insults at Betty. Deadly insults, profane insults, insulting insults.

Betty finally got mad. She settled Bill's hash in a hurry. A right hook to the cheek, a straight left to the nose, and two piston-like blows to the tummy.

Poor Bill! Nose bleeding, sickish, breathless, and deeply outraged, all he could do was lie there and squall. Typical male reaction?

It had taken Betty about ten seconds to dispose of him. Then she went swimming.

Yes, girls are tougher than boys at nine or ten. Glad they don't grow up that way. Aren't you glad too, fellow fathers?

See how SAFEWAY meat trimming SAVES YOU MONEY

Look at this diagram, folks! It shows why you get more good-eating for your money when you buy Safeway's trimmed-before-weighing meats. Note that you pay only for the portion that properly belongs on each cut—not for excess bone, waste, or fat. We prepare other cuts in similar fashion—each according to its special requirements. When checking meat value, it pays to compare trimming as well as price. Safeway's price is always on the trimmed cut.

RC Community Chest Defers Action on 1950 Budget

Redwood City Community Chest directors last night deferred action on its 1950 budget when confronted with agency requests totaling more than $40,000. Last year's campaign goal was approximately $35,000 and receipts were several thousand dollars short of that amount.

At the suggestion of Pres. James R. Hedge, the budget was referred back to the budget committee headed by Miss Doris Dean for further consideration.

It was suggested that certain of the membership youth organizations might call upon the parents of the children most directly benefited to carry a greater proportion of the organization expense.

Representatives of Sequoia Dist. Girl Scouts requested $9739, an increase of $2354 over last year. It was pointed out that the total amount is half of the district budget, the other half being borne by the San Mateo County Community Chest.

Chester C. Armstrong presented a budget request of $8500 for the Boy Scouts, $1500 more than last year. He explained that $6195 was spent to maintain the area office in Redwood City and that $2305 was requested to contribute to support the county council activities.

Other increases: $575 for YMCA, including cost of a motion picture projector, and $250 for Catholic Social Service.

20-30 Club Joins RC Groups In Two-Day 'Frolics' Program

Redwood City's 20-30 Club will aid in the city service club's presentation of the Club Frolics program to be presented at Sequoia High School auditorium on May 23 and 24 at 8 p.m.

The 20-30 Club is the seventh service organization to enter in the show, proceeds from which will go to the Boy Scout building fund.

The group will present a skit "Hollywood Extra," portraying the rigors of a Hollywood "stunt" man who always takes the tough parts supposedly portrayed by the hero.

Participating in the skit will be Jack Thomas, Roy Baxter, Fritz Kuffer, Ken Nelson, Jack Baxter, George Kimball and Adrian Barats.

Also entered in the program are members of the Kiwanis, Exchange, Commuters, Lions, Native Sons and Rotary Clubs.

First rehearsals for the program will be staged May 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the McKinley School auditorium.

Tickets for the performance are $1 each, including tax, and may be purchased from Grandi & Weymouth, John Brooke's, Sherwin Williams or the Boy Scout headquarters at 873 Main St.

SC Girl Injured In Auto Accident

A 3-year-old San Carlos girl sustained minor injuries yesterday when she was hit by a car in front of 301 Chestnut St., San Carlos.

The girl, Melinda Jones, daughter of Jack H. Jones, 300 Chestnut St., was taken by county ambulance to Community Hospital where she was treated for abrasions and other minor injuries and then released.

Police said Melinda darted out onto the street in front of the path of a car driven by Kenneth G. Merrill, 42-year-old manager of the Building Products Co., of San Mateo. Merrill's car was traveling south on Chestnut St.

Lions Club Hears Talk On Canterbury Dean

A biographical analysis of Dr. Hewlitt Johnson, the "Red Dean of Canterbury," was given at a meeting of the Redwood City Lions Club Wednesday night.

The talk was given by Gladys Tipton, an education student at Stanford University and a student teacher at McKinley School.

Red Cross Committee Heads Named

Committee chairmen of Sequoia Chapter, American Red Cross, were appointed at an executive board meeting this week.

Reappointed were W. Paul Whaley, disaster; Mrs. L. Polk Dodson, home service; Mrs. D. H. Chapman, home nursing; Mrs. Walter H. Mattson, nutrition; E. J. Wickstrom, first aid, and Clyde Devine, water safety.

Mrs. John Blackinger was appointed chairman of volunteer services. A new service committee was established to be known as membership and fund raising committee. Mrs. J. L. Rogers was named chairman.

Appointed from among the service chairmen as members of the executive board were Whaley, Mrs. Dodson, Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Rogers. The Junior Red Cross chairman, as yet not named, also will be a member of the board.

Mrs. Blackinger was named chairman of the staff committee. Mrs. Rogers was appointed chairman of the sector council.

Mrs. E. C. La Montagne, one of the oldest chairmen in point of continuous service, resigned. She had been chairman for seven years.

A total of $38,285.95 in cash was contributed during the recent fund drive and another $523.50 was pledged. Goal was $36,033.

This week's meeting was the first presided over by Dr. William E. Kratt since he was elected chairman of the chapter.

GARDEN: It's Safe Now To Set Out Pepper Plants

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

Had a letter the other day, a sort of publicity release from one of the Co-operatives, telling all about what they are selling their members now. I won't touch it, on the grounds that if they want the public to know what they're selling their members, let 'em advertise. Imagine what would happen if I started running a few paragraphs here on what kind of vegetables the Up-n-Up market is selling today. Or the Lower-n-Lower.

Even if the brass around here didn't object, I'd not like the mass of free advertising matter which would swamp this spacious manse wherein I toil?

Incidentally, the Co-ops are heavy advertisers in England. Was looking over a British sheet the other day, and the Co-ops were the heaviest advertisers. If they can ante up in one place, let them be consistent. Do you agree, or do you belong to a co-op?

In either case, please DON'T write me about it. I'd rather we kept our vegetable production problems on the home level, which has 'em all beat. Pardon me, beaten.

Just as a reminder, it should be quite safe now to set out your pepper plants. If you have a little complete nutrient solution to start them with, make it dilute and use it.

One thing you MUST remember about peppers, they belong to the Capsicum family and the peppers (C. frutescens) are the hungriest of the lot. To get good size, you must feed them about every three weeks. And plenty. A mulch will help, though not too much, since it interferes with that fertilizing schedule.

Eggplants (set these out now, too) are the ones which prosper with the mulch, but don't do so well without the root covering. Both eggplants and peppers need high temperatures and generous watering. Those who live in cool places should buy their eggplants and peppers, because success would be rare. And the experience trying.

Mrs. A. W. Carver of Sacramento sent to Oregon for gladiolus bulbs. Her check was acknowledged by card, but no glads arrived.

"I have written three times asking for a refund, but they do not acknowledge my letters. Is there anything else I can do? I have the cancelled check I sent them, which was cashed in January."

I'd suggest setting the case before the Better Business Bureau in your own town—Sacramento. Also, I'd suggest you go right away to some reliable dealer in your own city and buy some, because every garden should be growing glads now. Since you live in Sacramento anyway, you can get in touch with Gladabout Alice Williams, of the Northern California Gladiolus Society. She can give you the names of some reliable dealers. Her address is 4616 El Camino, Sacramento 15. I'm sorry I don't know her telephone number. (Whoops, don't misunderstand).

Anyway, here's some good advice. Whenever you're in the market for something which can be bought from a reliable local dealer, don't be looking for greener pastures.

When you get something locally, if it isn't what you expected, you can go right down and kick him in the shins. If you're the active type, you can shoot for his teeth.

What's hardier than a Marguerite, more generous with blooms, all of which are lovely. This makes an ideal plant for a tub on the sunny side of the patio. Just watch your pruning, because growth is fairly rapid, and to get a good tub specimen, you must cut back the tips to force a bushy growth.

County Needs Nutrition Study Data

The Cooperative Nutrition Study being carried on in San Mateo County among those over 50 years of age is being completed in the South County area but needs more persons in the 70, 80 and 90-year-old groups to volunteer.

Registrations are now being taken for residents of the southern part of the county, including San Carlos, Redwood City, Menlo Park and North Palo Alto, social security representatives explained.

Registration cards may be secured at the social security field office, 42 North B St., San Mateo, at the office of the study at the San Mateo City Hall, or through local organizations throughout the area, according to Edward J. Foley, manager of the San Mateo office of the Social Security Administration.

"With the constant increase in the number and proportion of elderly persons in the population, certain problems are coming to notice. One of them is the diet and food needs of those past middle age and the study being carried on will yield valuable results, I am sure," Mr. Foley said. "I would like to have persons receiving old age insurance under the Social Security Act volunteer to take part in the project. They can receive information that could be of value to their own doctors so their health and wellbeing can be maintained or improved. Also, they will be helping others through the general knowledge gained so that not only will 'more years be added to life but more life added to the years.' Persons over 70 years of age are especially needed at this time so that there will be a sufficient number of all age groups over 50 to make the results of the study reliable."

Safety Group Urges 5th Ave. Speed Limit

Designation of Fifth Ave. east of Bay Rd. as a 25-mile per hour residential zone, the painting of advance pedestrian crossing signs on both approaches to the crosswalk on Fifth Ave., and the erection of standard pedestrian crossing signs are recommended for the protection of children attending Taft School.

These recommendations are made by the California State Automobile Assn. as a result of a survey of the traffic safety problem at this location, made by its traffic and safety department. The report was submitted to Robert Moore, curriculum assistant in teaching training and safety education in San Mateo County schools, by Robert W. Graver, CSAA traffic consultant.

Fifth Ave., the CSAA report states, is one of the few streets in that vicinity connecting El Camino Real with Bayshore, and therefore carries a relatively high volume of through traffic.

Children living north of Fifth Ave. must cross this street to get to the school.

Menlo Park's School Board Rehires 21 Teachers, Adds 7

Twenty-one teachers were re-employed for the coming school year by the Menlo Park Elementary School Dist. trustees this week, and seven new teachers were selected to be offered employment.

The school board received the resignation of Mrs. Mae Young, who was filling a temporary vacancy.

Supt. Melville J. Homfeld was directed to proceed with plans for summer maintenance work, including installation of library facilities at Fremont School and teachers' workrooms at Fremont and Central Schools.

June 10 was set as the date for closing of the current school year in order to conform with other San Mateo County schools.

The board accepted but did not act on two plans. One was for landscaping of Encinal School. The other was for an after school and summer recreation program on school playgrounds, to be conducted by the city recreation department and financed by the school district.

Special meetings were set for May 17 to canvass the vote in the special tax election Tuesday, and May 27, to canvass the vote in the May 20 trustee election.

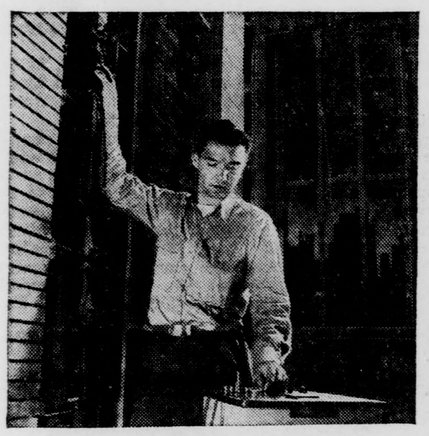
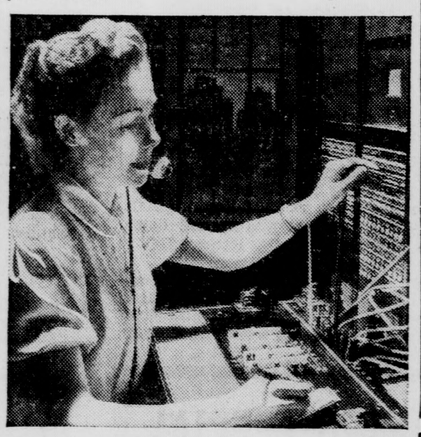
WHILE THE COAST SLEEPS

Hundreds of telephone people in the West keep night patrol to help meet emergencies and keep service reliable

1. Darkness can't stop these telephone men as they begin an important emergency cable repair at night. Fortunately, these emergencies are not common . . . usually can be repaired in daylight. But, up and down the Coast, other telephone people burn midnight oil regularly . . . so your telephone will work for you when you want it.



2. One important night-time job is done by this electronic tester. It checks lines to make sure they're in good shape. At the same time, other telephone men are vacuum cleaning and inspecting sensitive switching equipment . . . you might say it's stopping trouble before it starts. And night is the best time to do it, while most telephone users are sleeping.



3. In the quiet hours of the night operators handle relatively few calls . . . but many of them are vitally important. Repairmen are on call for service on important lines . . . doctors, hospitals and the like. Garagemen check and equip trucks for the next day's installation rounds. Building service workers make offices spic and span . . . all a part of providing reliable service to you.

4. You can help yourself get the most from your telephone . . . a servant that is constantly growing in value. You can do it by using the telephone in the most efficient way: being sure of the right number before you call . . . giving the called person plenty of time to get to the telephone . . . spacing your calls so others may get a call through to you.

Study The Eating Value You Get In Safeway Lamb Chops

(the chops are yours free unless you find them wonderful eating!)

THEY'RE FROM TOP GRADES OF LAMB ...selected by experts who know quality

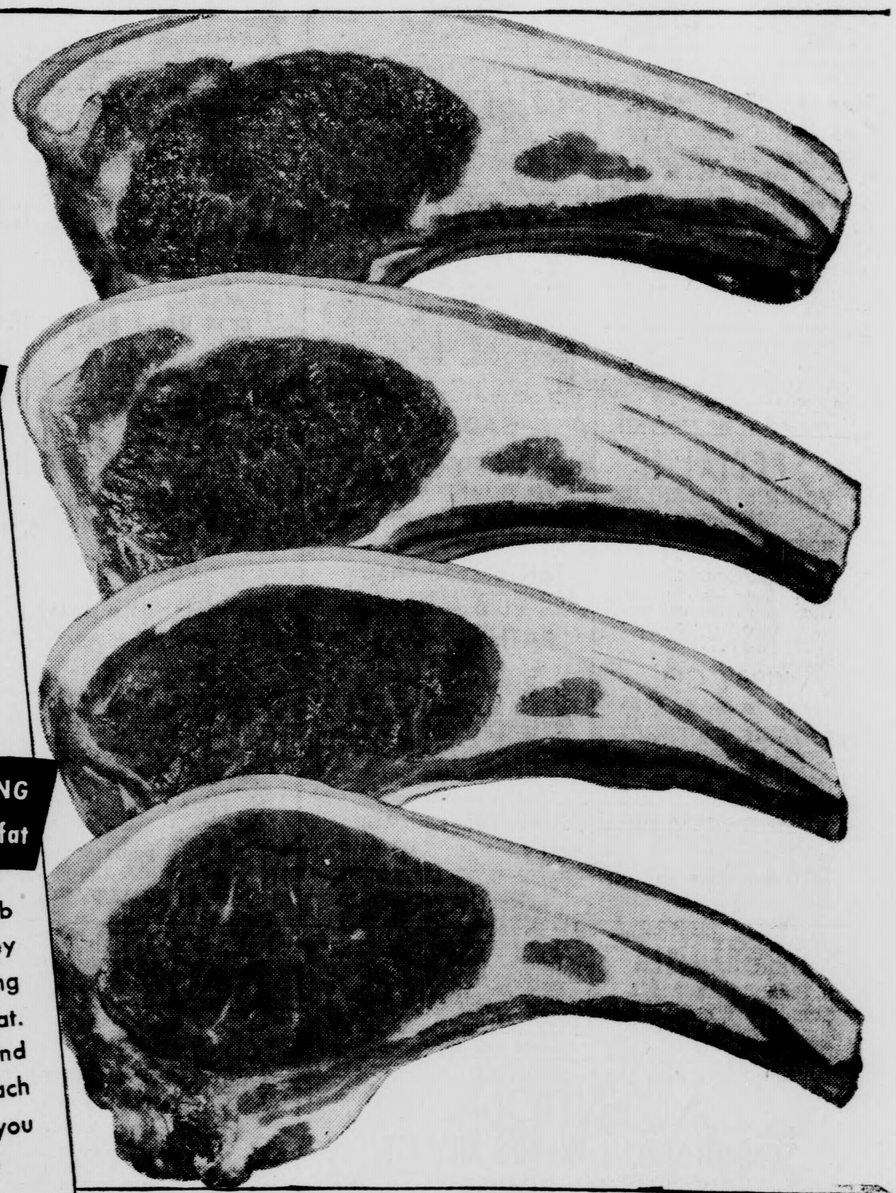
Safeway experts buy only Government graded lamb—the top U. S. Government grades. It's the finest-eating lamb offered in this area. Safeway also buys only top U. S. Government grades of beef, top grades of pork and veal

THEY'RE AGED FOR TENDERNESS ...the way finest hotels do

In the specially-designed aging rooms (at our remarkable 2-acre meat plant) we age Safeway meat for the full time required to develop its peak natural tenderness, juiciness and fine flavor. Just the way famous hotel chefs do

THEY'RE TRIMMED BEFORE WEIGHING ...you don't pay for excess bone or fat

These Safeway rib lamb chops show you why it's "money in your pocket" to check trimming as well as price when buying meat. Safeway cuts off long "tail" and tip end of chine bone from each chop before weighing. It gives you better-eating chops, less waste



The guarantee printed below holds good on ALL meat purchases at Safeway markets

TAKE HOME some Safeway rib lamb chops (or any cut or kind of Safeway meat)...Cook and serve the way you prefer

EAT EVERY BIT OF THE MEAT... judge the tenderness, juiciness, flavor

IF YOU DON'T LIKE THE MEAT—for any reason whatsoever—your own Safeway market man will give all your money back, without return of the meat.

We take the risk on SAFEWAY GUARANTEED MEATS

Supervisors Honor John W. Poole Here

The memory of John W. Poole, Redwood City civic leader and a member of the board of supervisors for 17 years, was honored Monday at a special meeting of the board of supervisors.

The supervisors passed a resolution in praise of Mr. Poole's civic work, and adjourned in his honor. Mr. Poole died on April 29.

Hillsborough Just Isn't Ordinary City

Although Hillsborough's ordinance prohibiting parking house trailers on the town's estates is "unusual," the city council apparently has the right to draft such an ordinance, Superior Judge Scott remarked Monday.

The judge's comment was made during a hearing Monday morning on the demurrer filed by Hillsborough against the suit by Jerome J. Kenney, a San Francisco teacher who lives at 1720 Crockett Ln., Hillsborough.

Kenney is seeking an injunction barring the city from preventing him from keeping a house trailer on the property. The judge will rule on the demurrer next Monday after examining the authorities submitted by the attorneys.

Samuel W. Wicklow, Kenney's attorney, said that the Hillsborough man wanted to paint and provision his trailer for a summer trip. Because of the ordinance, passed last Fall, he has moved the trailer to Mountain View.

"The city council has no right to demand that a man build a garage over his house," Wicklow charged.

"Perhaps the city council is just thinking of the esthetic value of dear old Hillsborough," Judge Scott returned.

"According to this ordinance," he continued, "if you drove up to the Crockers in your trailer for a couple of hours' visit, you'd be arrested.

"Imagine calling on the Crockers in a house trailer!" he added as an afterthought.

While the council has the right to regulate property, Judge Scott declared, "I don't go for it at all. But that's the new deal in legislation."

After examining the ordinance further, the judge remarked:

"Well, let's get away from Hillsborough and down to Redwood City where ordinary people live.

"Cities would have to have an ordinance like this. You couldn't have every one parking a house trailer in his front yard."

Burlingame Hit By Suit Here

A Burlingame couple filed suit in superior court here to force the City of Burlingame to allow them to build a house on their property at Easton Dr. and Cortez Ave., Burlingame.

The petition for writ of mandate was filed by E. J. Roussey and Jean Roussey, 1509 Newslands Ave. They claim that on Feb. 7 the Burlingame City Council denied their petition to subdivide Lots 4 and 5 in Block 22 of the Easton Addition.

There already is a house on Lot 4, the petition stated, but the Rousseys wish to build another house on the 8800 square feet of property left.

APPROVE CONSTRUCTION

Permission to construct a second house on the front half of a lot at 80 Finger Ave. was granted this week by the Redwood City Planning Commission.

The lot is in a single family zone, but the rear house was constructed before the zoning ordinance was adopted.

Gals and Gallants

LETTER: Dear Janie,

I read your column all the time it is in the paper and I admire you and your writing very much.

I, too, attend McKinley School, Rm. 13 and that just goes to show you what a big school it is as I haven't met you.

This semester my elective is journalism and Mr. Heffner speaks of you quite frequently.

I read the letter in your column on April 21 sent in by Jimmy Kason, and it interested me very much, because my last elective was dramatics. I played one of the leading parts in a play at McKinley. Ghost in the House. I was Mrs. Meridith. I also was the mistress of ceremonies on "Truth or Else" which was presented by the dramatics class during an assembly. I also played the lead in a play the last school I attended. I have played bit parts in the Community Center Little Theater in Palo Alto. When I lived in Tennessee I took expression lessons.

That is my experience in full. I am very interested in Jimmy's plan and I hope I can qualify to participate. It sounds like fun.

BETH LITTLE

ANSWER: Dear Beth,

Thank you for your interesting letter. I am sure Jimmy will enjoy knowing that you are interested in what he is planning. I have given him your address and phone number so that he may get in touch with you when necessary.

I have seen you at school now and then, but I wasn't too sure that you were you for a while!

JANIE COOLIDGE

LETTER: Dear Janie,

I've been reading your column and that you would like your readers to write in some games. I happened to think of a game you might be interested in. The game is fun to play, it's called, Blow Your Whistle. Here's how the game is played. As many people can play as you wish. First someone is picked to be it; he tells everyone to hide their eyes. Those people count by fives to 500; in the meantime that person hides. When the people finish counting, they yell, Blow Your Whistle! The person it, blows his whistle. The people then try to find him or her. The person who finds him or her is it next time.

Try this game sometime, it's lots of fun!

JACKIE POVERLLO

ANSWER: Dear Jackie,

Thank you very much for your letter. I certainly will try the game soon, and it does sound like a lot of fun.

I should think it would be loads of fun to play outdoors on a warm Summer evening! Don't you worry, I will try it!

Thanks and write in soon.

LETTER: Dear Janie,

Yesterday I was talking to some girls, and somehow the subject of your column came up, they suggested that you didn't put enough things in that are interesting, like recipes for instance, they didn't seem to like that sort of thing.

Put things in like, what age girls should go out with boys which I think is 14. You might tell them how most girls and their friends have their bedrooms fixed. Very neatly put pictures of movie stars on your walls. Things that you like for keepsakes like notes and letters from boys, pin them to your curtains or compacts that have been given to you, put them on the wall with scotch tape. Put pennants all around your room.

MICKEY PURDON

ANSWER: Dear Mickey,

Golly, I sure wouldn't want to pin my notes and letters from my boy-friends on my curtains. What if my girl friends walked in and started reading? Wouldn't you feel embarrassed? If I stuck compacts and pictures all over my walls with scotch tape, I think my mother and father would have double cat-fits!

About the age when a girl should go out with boys; I think that is mostly the parents problem. I go out with them now, but first I consult my parents. If your parents don't think you should start to go out, they probably are right. After all, aren't parents always right?

RC Service Clubs Schedule Rehearsals for Club Frolics

First rehearsals for the Club Frolics, Redwood City service clubs' program, will be staged May 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the McKinley School auditorium.

The Frolics, a program of six humorous acts, will be presented at Sequoia High School auditorium on May 23 and 24 at 8 p.m. Entire proceeds from the show will go to the Boy Scout building fund.

Participating in the program will be members of the Kiwanis, Exchange, Commuters, Lions, Native Sons and Rotary clubs.

Kiwanis members will present a skit, "Baby Sitters," directed by Earl Whitaker. Appearing in the skit will be Bob Wondries, Thom Rhorabaugh, Sid Herkner, John Ball, Chet Wilson, Don Stanwood and Don Buttle.

The Native Sons will put on an act while the Exchange Club will present a fashion show of 10 men and two girls plus a musical skit. R. L. Spangler and A. H. McGovern will present the music for the Exchange Club skit.

Rotary Club members will present four numbers, Charlie Lock, violinist; Jim Hedge, dance; a bar scene, and Jim Greenwell in "Blood in the Saddle."

Percy Smock will perform sleight of hand tricks, representing the Lions Club's part in the show.

Dean Borba, Stanford University student, will be master of ceremonies at the performance. Service clubs met last night to coordinate plans for the performance which will be under the overall direction of Chet Wilson.

Dress rehearsal for the show will be held May 22 at 2 p.m. in the Sequoia High School auditorium.

Tickets for the performances are $1 each, including tax, and may be purchased from Grandi & Weymouth, John Brooke's, Sherwin Williams or the Boy Scout headquarters at 873 Main St.

Allied Arts Gets Building Approval

Allied Arts Guild may build a new garden sales room, the Menlo Park Planning Commissioners this week postponed the structure occupies approximately the same land area as the one it will replace.

Planners put this provision in their recommendation to the city council that a variance be granted to the guild, which operates a non-conforming use in a residential area.

The conditional decision was apparently designed to satisfy objections of some neighbors that the building, which was to be larger than the one it replaced, would represent expansion of commercial activity in a residential area.

It was the third time the planners tussled with the problem. In a previous action they recommended denial of a variance, but the city council sent the matter back for a new hearing.

N. D. Rowley, attorney for the guild, declared the request satisfied all requirements of zoning law. He explained that a previous garden sales room had been ruined by dry rot.

The charity organization, which contributes all profits to the Stanford Convalescent Home, has operated a nursery since 1932, thus establishing a property right, he said.

Rowley also presented guild plans to build a parking area for 67 cars accessible from the Cambridge Ave. entrance; 18 more cars could be parked on the guild's side of Arbor Rd. He said this plan would handle the maximum number of cars there at any one time and would alleviate the parking problem on nearby streets.

Protest petitions signed by 87 residents averred that granting of a variance would decrease property values and allow for expansion of a business activity in a residential zone.

A request from Dr. Max W. Forsythe for rezoning to third class residential use was set for hearing June 6. Dr. Forsythe said he wished to build a one-story structure for dental offices.

May Deed Land For Widening

Real Estate Agent L. E. Werder indicated this week that his clients might deed to the city land wanted for the widening of Broadway between Jefferson Ave. and Main St.

Appearing before the Redwood City Planning Commission hearing on setback lines, he first asked why the city didn't pay immediately for the land it intends to condemn. Then he asked why his clients should pay taxes on land they couldn't use. Finally he said that possibly his clients would deed a strip five feet by 97 feet right away rather than pay taxes on it.

During his discussion, Werder said he resented a previous remark by Cmsr. Paul Jones that a "fire would clean up" the land owned by his clients.

To this Lawrence Wise, planning consultant, remarked that "it's still America and he (Jones) is entitled to his opinion."

Werder said his clients probably would not object to deeding the land but would object to being assessed for construction of a wider street. Wise said it was not likely they would be because the city would do a widening job only for the moving of traffic.

Planners Turn Down Ruggiero Application

An application by Biagio Ruggiero for permission to resubdivide a lot at 2902 Hopkins Ave. into two lots was turned down this week by the Redwood City Planning Commission.

Commissioners said the proposal would result in lots of less than 6000 square feet and that they could not legally give such permission.

San Francisco Annexation Plan Rapped

Two members of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors have hinted that County Executive Frederick Peterson is behind a movement by a taxpayers group which is "considering" giving its support to annexing the county to San Francisco.

Peterson, however, strongly denied that he had any connection with annexation plans and said that he not only is against annexation, but added "I think the whole thing is ridiculous."

San Francisco Mayor Elmer Robinson last week said that he had received a letter from the Taxpayers League of San Mateo County, which claimed to be "considering" giving its support to a movement to unite the two counties, and asking for data on what course to follow for amalgamation. Robinson said he would send any surveys he has on the subject, and would "welcome" consolidation.

"I don't think the people of San Mateo County would do anything as foolish as that at the present time," Peterson declared.

He repeated, however, a statement which he made after San Mateo County's charter was revised last November to change his position to an appointive basis.

He said that the citizens of San Mateo County should form a city and county government.

"However, you can't do anything until 1950," Peterson said. "It would be the saving of San Mateo County."

He charged that the Taxpayers League, which had organized in an effort to reduce local taxes, now apparently is "going into politics."

"They're double-crossing their membership," Peterson charged.

The county executive said that he had heard some rumors about the Taxpayers League's request for surveys from Robinson, and added that "there won't be any annexation for the next 30 or 40 years to come."

"I think San Mateo County should care for its own affairs," Peterson continued. "The thing to do is just laugh it off—it's just some more malarkey."

Supervisor Edward R. McDonald of Burlingame said that he believed that Peterson was "in back of all this."

"After the charter change, didn't he make the statement that he would work to establish a city and county of San Mateo?" McDonald asked. "This is the thing in reverse."

Henry D. Edmonds, chairman of the board of supervisors, joined the others in opposing consolidation with San Francisco.
